Shuffled Sentences

HOW TO APPROACH THESE QUESTIONS:

Shuffled sentences are simply sentences that have been jumbled up. Sometimes you will be asked to put them in the correct order. Sometimes an additional word will be added that doesn't belong in the sentence and you will be asked to identify it.

TECHNIQUE:

1. Look at the question and see if the answer comes:

- Always write out the sentence you decide on, this helps eradicate mistakes.
- When children look at shuffled sentences sometimes they can just leap to the answer e.g. house kennel called a dog's is a - A dog's house is called a kennel.

2. Identify the subject and use that to help you:

- WORK ACTIVELY- Whichever technique you use the most important thing to remember is to work actively. The answer simply will not come to you by staring at the page and it is the mistake that most children make. If after some simple trial and error the answer has not come, then try the specific activities below. Remember that even if you have done some of these questions before you still have to "switch on" and the best way of doing that is to work actively.
- The best approach – Identify the subject (look for nouns). If there is more than one, list them. Let's take the jumbled sentence below as an example.

house for walked around dog the food looking

Subject:	Action:	Other:
house	walked	the
dog	looking	around food		for the

- Then identify action words (verbs) and list them.
- Then list the other words.
- Use a little trial and error. Imagine the sentence started with The food- could you make it work? How about The house? How about The dog? The dog seems most likely.
- Next try some options, The dog walked? The dog looking? The dog walked around the house? Keep trying options and you should get there. The dog walked around the house looking for food.

3. Look for clues:

- If you are still stuck then we need to find another technique. Look for clues in the words. Where you see the words if or what or when this may indicate it is a question and so if may start the sentence.
  e.g. you might get a sentence like this – birds cold avoid start when do to fly south the

If you noticed that When was in the sentence and it might be a question, then this could help you to reach an answer.

When do birds start to fly south to avoid the cold?

Some of these words can also be used in a conditional sense e.g.

I will give you a sweet if you help me.

I want to eat when I have finished my homework.

4. Use the match up process:

If you still have not worked the sentence out and you have time then go through the following routine. Doing this match up process helps with even the very complicated sentences. Match nouns to adjectives and verbs to adverbs.

- List potential subjects
- List action words
- List other words
- Match adjectives to nouns (there may be more than one possibility)
- Match adverbs to verbs (again there may be more than one possibility) of meadow the tall out ran the house boy down to green wooden the

Subjects:	Action:	Others:
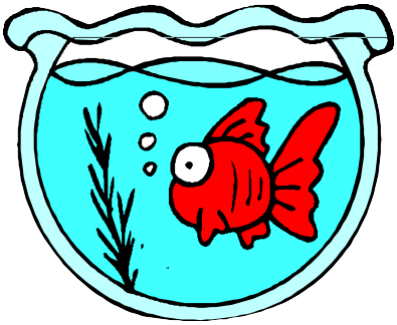
wooden house	ran	out the to
tall boy		of down the
green meadow		the

Answer – The tall boy ran out of the wooden house down to the green meadow.

Remember to work actively, try lots of options. Often with these questions success comes after first failing. Don't be frightened of getting it wrong to start with.

Shuffled Sentences Practice 1

Put the sentences in the correct order so that they make sense.



1. mark the test boy on got high a the

2. pond goldfish the swam in the

3. Spain to ever have been you

5. found I keys the house

6. too come I can

7. like countryside I move would to to the too

8. boys play went beach the to the to

   _____

9. praise better get children with

   _____

10. other shop the road side of sells tea on the the

Remember – work actively, try lots of options. Remember to use your pen, don't do it all in your head.

Charlie Chaplin

Sir Charles Spencer "Charlie" Chaplin, KBE (16 April 1889 – 25 December 1977) was an English comic actor, film director and composer best known for his work in the United States during the silent film era. He became the most famous film star in the world before the end of World War I. Chaplin used mime, slapstick and other visual comedy routines, and continued well into the era of the talkies, though his films decreased in frequency from the end of the 1920s. His most famous role was that of The Tramp, which he first played in the Keystone comedy Kid Auto Races at Venice in 1914. From the April 1914 one-reeler Twenty Minutes of Love onwards he was writing and directing most of his films, by 1916 he was also producing them, and from 1918 he was even composing the music for them. With Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks and D. W. Griffith, he co-founded United Artists in 1919.

Chaplin was one of the most creative and influential personalities of the silent-film era. He was influenced by his predecessor, the French silent film comedian Max Linder, to whom he dedicated one of his films. His working life in entertainment spanned over 75 years, from the Victorian stage and the music hall in the United Kingdom as a child performer, until close to his death at the age of 88. His high-profile public and private life encompassed both adulation and controversy. Chaplin was identified with left-wing politics during the McCarthy era and he was ultimately forced to resettle in Europe from 1952.

In 1999, the American Film Institute ranked Chaplin the 10th-greatest male screen legend of all time. In 2008, Martin Sieff, in a review of the book Chaplin: A Life, wrote, "Chaplin was not just 'big', he was gigantic. In 1915, he burst onto a war-torn world bringing it the gift of comedy, laughter and relief while it was tearing itself apart through World War I. Over the next 25 years, through the Great Depression and the rise of Adolf Hitler, he stayed on the job. ... It is doubtful any individual has ever given more entertainment, pleasure and relief to so many human beings when they needed it the most." George Bernard Shaw called Chaplin "the only genius to come out of the movie industry".

Now answer the questions on the next pages.

True or false?
