Department of Graduate Admissions.

To whom it may concern:

We are pleased to provide a letter of recommendation in full support of Ms. Daniela Zapata Vega's application to pursue graduate studies in your university. Daniela is an extraordinary employee of our mental health center and we are very honored to have the opportunity to speak on her behalf.

We met Daniela in January 2020 when she completed the 3-month internship required by her university, the Pontificia Universidad Católica Madre y Maestra (PUCMM), to obtain a degree in Psychology. During this period, Daniela showed responsibility and commitment in the assigned tasks, she was punctual to all the meetings and always gave us the extra mile pointing out possible improvements to the internal processes of our center.

Daniela showed great interest in Clinical Psychology, so during her internship she had the opportunity to learn about real cases through our Gesell Chamber and, in turn, prepare possible intervention schemes for patients together with the supervising psychologists of her internship. We emphasize that Daniela demonstrated that she had the necessary clinical skills for an adequate intervention, such as empathy, ethics, responsibility, introspection, continuous research and outlining of psychological interventions. We are sure that Daniela has great potential and is capable of performing in an exemplary manner in Clinical Psychological or Counseling.

It is for this reason that, in November 2021, we considered Daniela to be part of our team as Responsible for Psychometric Evaluations and the Development of our Digital Platform. We are very proud that she is part of it, as she has been an essential part in the development of both areas of the center. We are sure that Daniela will achieve everything she'd want to do in life because when she has a task in front of her she does not hesitate to take ownership of it and do what is necessary to complete it. We believe she is a great addition to any team.
